SEED FIRM SEEKING MENDOCINO ACRES

Iowa Company Man Here to Contract Squash, Pumpkin and Cucumber Planting

INDUSTRY GROWS

Soil and Climate Ideal For Producing Harvest to Supply Wholesale Markets

Raising garden seed promises to develop into one of the leading industries of Mendocino and Lake counties. The J. C. Robinson Seed Company of Waterloo, Iowa, one of the largest distributors of seeds in the world, has a member of their field staff working out of Ukiah and he is now in Round valley where he hopes to contract several hundred acres to be devoted exclusively to raising of squash and pumpkins for seed. This year the same firm contracted for the squash and pumpkin crops of about 400 acres in the Upper Lake section and this crop is now being harvested. They also have 60 acres of cucumbers in Potter valley now ready for harvest. The firm wants 400 acres more to devote to cucumber growing.

Some years ago another seed firm started harvesting watermelon and musk melon seeds in Potter valley and this has grown to large proportions and is very profitable to the ranchers.

Vegetables raised for seed must be thoroughly ripe and only the seeds are saved. With melons and cucumbers the procedure is to run them through threshing machines after which the seeds are dried and then sacked and sent to the distributing points where they are placed in the fancy packets we see n the seed stores. Because squash and pumpkin have a thick, hard rind, they have to be first cut open and the seed removed. The ranchers who raise these vegetable seeds use the refuse for any purpose desired, and a lot can be salvaged for hog and stock feed.

Round valley is now the most promising field for vegetable seed production in California and this may prove to be the salvation of the ranchers. Because of the isolation of that valley its ranchers cannot compete with more favored sections when it comes to transportation of farm products, but in seed production they are as well off as any other locality Round valley has a splendid climate and soil, equal to the best in the state, and ther is hardly any limit to the amount of seed they can produce.

Fort Bragg Again Football Champs; Beats Ukiah 19-7

Speed, spirit, strategy and strength are a strong combination for any school's football team, and these four elements were brought to Ukiah last Wednesday and turned loose on the local high school gridiron in large quantities by the aggregation from Fort Bragg, resulting in a final score of 19 to 7 for the coast school.

Aided by the "breaks" Fort Bragg scored at the very outset of the game and before the end of the first quarter had again crossed Ukiah's goal line.

The first flurry of nervousness over, Coach Christensen's squad settled down to work, holding the visiting team to an additional 6 points and themselves scoring on Weselsky's 55-yard pass to Woodruff in the last quarter.

Weselsky, still suffering from injuries received in the game with Healdsurg, played his usual brilliant game, except for the loss of speed, and was removed because of a second injury near the close of the game. Walsh was also taken from the game because of injury.

Playng their last game for Ukiah were Tom Cleland, Kinsler, Jordon, Cy Ford, Woodruff, Ivey, Norton Beebe and Parducci. Of these, Ivey was the only 4-year man, with three years of consistent service on the Varsity squad.

Wednesday's game was the postponement of the championship contest set for last Saturday and cancelled because of rain. Fort Bragg is again champion of the county, with a contest with Lake county champs to settle the league title.

Willits Recluse Dies Following Exposure

Richard A. Gilmor, 73, of Willits is dead from the effects of exposure. Mr. Gilmore owned a small ranch at the south end of Little Lake valley and lived alone. For some time his health has been failing and Monday morning Mrs. P. L. Hall, a neighbor, noticed that no smoke was coming from Gilmore's chimney. With the assistance of several neighbor women, Mrs. Hall entered the house and found Mr. Gilmore lying on the floor, nearly frozen. They put him to bed, built a fire, and did other things to revive him, without success.

Gilmore had lived in that vicinity most of the past 20 years, but very little is known of his past, other than that he was a native of Kentucky and had relatives living in that state. A letter addressed to a sister was found in his home and she has been notified of his death, but so far no response has been received.

PITFALLS SEEN IN TRANSACTION TAX

Farmer Would Be Further Aggrevated By Increased Price Of All His Purchases

TOLL ON TURNOVER

Each Transaction to Take Its Bit For Ultimate Consumer to Pay In Higher Price

By Ralph H. Taylor
Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California

Can the California farmer, already hard-pressed by heavy property taxes, afford to pay a new gross transactions tax—a tax on every transaction in his business, pyramiding and compounding with each turnover.

And if, perchance, he can afford the tax, can he stand the equally heavy cost of maintaining the elaborate set of books and accounts which the system would require?

Such are the questions which confront the state's farming industry as a result of State Controller Ray L. Riley's proposal for a sweeping revision of the California tax system, with the substitution of a gross transactions levy for the present state sales tax and the newly-inaugurated state income tax.

California agriculture, to be sure, should not turn thumbs down on any program of suggested tax reform until the exact provisions of the program are known and until the plan has been carefully analyzed. But neither can it afford to make a bad matter worse by hastily switching from one plan of taxation, only barely established, to some newer program, both revolutionary and largely experimental.

Rates of the proposed gross transactions tax, according to the Controller, would be low—probably much lower than the present sales levy, although an exact schedule of rates has not been determined. On the other hand, whereas the sales tax is applied but once, the transactions tax would be collected on each turnover, multiplying and compounding each time the product changed hands in its long and often circituous route to the ultimate consumer.

Illustrating the effect of the proposed gross transactions levy on the farming industry, a California fruit grower, for example, would pay the tax when he delivered his crop to the packer or processor; the packer or processor would again pay the same tax when he sold to the wholesaler; the wholesaler would pay when he delivered to the jobber; the jobber would "ante up" again when he sold to the retailer. And the retailer would make a final tax payment, not only the tax on the original value of the product, but a tax on all the previous taxes, when he sold to the consumer.

Then, as the program appears at first flush, the farmer's tax difficulties would be added to the price of all of his purchases, without exemptions, such as seed, feed, stock, fertilizer, box shook, sacks, fuel, equipment, etc.

Before California agriculture could be expected to support a gross transactions tax, the industry would require the most rigid guarantees against the pyramiding abuse. And it is probable that such guarantees could not be given, as the tax is essentially a tax on turnover, with its pyramiding features inherent. The result would be that there would be an even greater disparity between the consumer's buying price and the farmer's selling price than at present.

And of almost equal importance to the farmer is the complex bookkeeping setup which would be required on each farm to comply with the law. In many instances, the cost of keeping the accounts would undoubtedly equal the amount of the tax. And added to this would be the constant irritation incident to the visits of a new horde of state tax collectors, accountants and auditors, delving into the farmer's business.

At first glance, at least, agriculture would seem to be better off with the sales tax and the income tax.

Willits News

WILLITS, Nov. 5.—For the past week we have had very cold nights, some thermometers registering as low as 26 degrees above zero during the night. During the last storm San Hedrin and the other high mountains east of this valley were covered with snow, some of which has since melted, but we can still see plenty of snow from Willits. During the same period we are told the hills around Sherwood valley were covered with about an inch of snow. Old timers are now predicting a cold winter for they say that the snow on the higher levels will not melt until spring and this will keep the valleys cold from winds that sweep over them. Most of the surplus hay has already been disposed of and now large quantities of hay are being trucked over from the Sacramento valley, most of which goes to Humboldt county. The cold wave is holding back the grass, but fortunately all kinds of stock are in good condition.

Fort Bragg Highway

Supervisor Duane Bittenbender has received notice that the WPA work will start on the Willits-Fort Bragg highway this week. Eighty men will be put to work, about 30 of whom were already signed up, and the balance signed up Wednesday of this week. The sum of $58,000 has been assigned for this project and in addition to this Supervisor Bittenbender has agreed to furnish all equipment, which consists of a gas shovel, bulldozer, trucks, etc. Most of the work will be done on the mountain section and will consist of cutting back points, widening the roadway, leveling up, graveling and doing other work to improve the highway. The work will all be done between Willits and the James bridge. More than half of this stretch is already wide and in good shape. By next summer this highway will be one of the best in Mendocino county, not included in the state highway system.

Ran Off Grade

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clark started for Fort Bragg last Saturday night and when they reached a point just below Three Chop they met another machine coming this way at high speed and it crowded them off the grade. Their auto turned over and landed on the top and then lodged against a tree. But for this streak of luck the machine would have rolled down into the canyon and killed both of them. They were brought to the Howard Memorial hospital where their minor wounds and bruises were attended to. Mr. Clark is head surveyor at Camp Northwestern and runs the lines for the fire trails the CCC boys are now building. The automobile, a Chevrolet touring car, was hauled to town by Gunderson's wrecking service and is very badly damaged. The metal roof is full of dents and all of the glass was broken.

Art Baskett Dead

Word was received here last week that Arthur Braskett, an old time resident of Willits, had died at Bakersfield, October 31. No particulars were given. Deceased was about 75 years of age and came to Willits with his parents when he was a small boy. Upon reaching maturity he followed the occupation of teamster until that business was killed by motor vehicles. He was then employed at the Northwestern sawmill until that institution shut down and about 15 years ago left for the southern part of the state where he resumed teaming and trucking for mining companies. His only known relative in this county is his brother, Crete Braskett, a blacksmith in Covelo.

Taking a Vacation

Misses Amy Foord and Jimella Dill, both employees of the telephone company at Ukiah, left Sunday for southern California where they will spend their vacation. They will first visit the San Diego exposition.

Rogers Ranch Sold

Lee Thornberg has purchased from H. B. Muir what is still known as the Rogers ranch. This ranch is a short distance west of Willits on the Fort Bragg road and contains 320 acres of valley and hill land and is considered one of the best stock ranches in this locality. A small bunch of beef cattle and the farm implements were included in the deal. Mr. Thornberg resided here with his family about 10 years ago and then moved to eastern Oregon where he has been ranching. He has arrived here with his family and they have already taken possession of the property.

Willits Creamery

The Willits Creamery is now hauling cream from Round valley to help out the local supply. They send a truck up on Tuesdays and Thursdays and to help pay expenses haul feed stuff from here. At present they are making Van's garage their Covelo headquarters.

Mrs. Bankhead Dead

Mrs. Claire Bankhead died in San Francisco, October 31. She was a former wellknown resident of Willits, where she and her husband resided for a number of years. Her husband, Russell Bankhead, used to be a conductor on the northern division of the Northwestern Pacific railroad and while following that occupation fell in front of a locomotive and had both of his legs cut off and died shortly afterwards. This accident took place near Maple spur, February 27, 1927, and shortly after this Mrs. Bankhead sold her Willits home and moved to the city. While here she was a very active member of Willits chapter Order of Eastern Star and she was highly esteemed by everybody.

Another Wreck

E. H. Long, a well known resident of Round valley, met with a serious accident last Friday night about four miles this side of Laytonville while on his way home. He was driving a truck and says he was blinded by the rain which was then falling in torrents. Instead of making a curve he went straight over the bank and, as luck would have it, the truck lodged against a tree and saved him from piling up in Long valley creek several hundred feet below. As it was Mr. Long escaped with slight injuries. The truck was badly wrecked.

Spud Growers Must Secure Allotments For Coming Season

The Mendocino County Farm Advisor's office has issued the following statement regarding the program of the potato control program for the coming year:

According to word received from A. E. Mercker, chief of the potato section, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, it seems there will be some sort of a potato program for the coming year. Details of the program under the Potato Control act have not been completed by the adjustment administration. According to information available, under the Potato act all potatoes offered for sale must have stamps. Allotments will be given to the states which may be sold tax free, on the basis of past production and acreage. In turn, through representatives of the producers, tax free allotments are given counties and individual potato farms. On all potatoes sold in excess of allotments, a tax of three-quarters of a cent per pound is to be levied, unless the secretary of agriculture fixes a lower rate of tax, but it can not be less than one-half cent a pound.

Allotments to farms are to be made upon application by producers. Whether a grower joins the potato adjustment program or not, he should file an application for his sales allotment at this time, otherwise he will have to pay the tax of one-half cent to three-quarter cent a pound on all potatoes sold. Application blanks for potato sales allotments may be obtained from the farm advisor's office, Ukiah, and should be secured, filled out, and returned immediately in order to qualify the grower for his allotment.

The California Agricultural Extension Service is not inaugurating a potato program in the state nor has it anything to do with the merits or demerits of the plan, but is merely complying with definite instructions from Washington.

Lake County Folks Doubt Story Told By Holdup Victim

Lake county authorities had another highway "mystery" left on their doorstep last week after E. C. Jewett of Harris, Humboldt county, rolled into Upper Lake on the rim and reported a holdup in which he was robbed of $140 in currency and an auto tire under threats of death. Jewett exhibited a bullet wound in his left arm, said to have been received from the highwayman when he resisted.

Jewett's story of where the encounter took place was strikingly indefinite and he also told of making a bed of his bunk roll and sleeping all night and until nearly noon the following day before making his way into Upper Lake.

Lake county folks are mindful of a hoax played by a man found along the highway some months ago, who was supposed to have been the victim of a hit-run driver. After being fed and cared for he was found a faker and run out of the county.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, Novembeer 10, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart" (Ps 15:1, 2). Other Bible citations will include: "There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (1 Cor. 10:13).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is well that the upper portions of the brain represent the higher moral sentiments, as if hope were ever prophesying thus: The human mind will sometime rise above all material and physical sense, exchanging it for spiritual perception, and exchanging human concepts for the divine consciousness" (p. 531).

LAKE HAS BURGLARIES

A series of burglaries in widely separated sections of Lake county were investigated last week by Sheriff Taylor Day. At the Home Pharmacy, Upper Lake, thieves robbed vending machines and took a large quantity of cosmetics, watches, fountain pens. The S Bar S Trading Post, between Kelseyville and Lower Lake, was robbed of $35 in cash, quantities of groceries, tobaccos and two vending machines.

P.G. and E. REDUCES ELECTRIC RATES

New low rates will apply on electricity used in the home and for commercial lighting throughout P. G. & E. system. Over 690,000 customers will benefit by this saving of nearly $4,000,000 a year, beginning with January bills.

CHEAPER ELECTRICITY

Reduced electric rates mean just one thing—cheaper electricity. To each individual home in the P. G. and E. system and to all commercial lighting customers that means more comforts and conveniences from electricity at no additional cost.

APPLIES TO JANUARY BILLS

The reduced electric rates take effect automatically and apply on January bills to all domestic users and to all commercial lighting customers.

WHY this reduced electric rate?

This substantial saving to our customers of nearly $4,000,000 has been long under consideration and we have been planning carefully for it. We feel now we can justify it on the following four points of good business. These four points are:

1. Increased demand for electricity stimulated in part by the special inducement rate of the past year and in part by better business conditions.

2. Lowered financing costs brought about by reducing interest charges of a large part of the company's bonded debt with 4 per cent bonds.

3. Reduced management and operating costs which were lowered through the consolidation of several properties.

4. By economies put in effect in every department.

Take advantage of the new low electric rates. Do more electrically, now that all types of electric equipment for the home will cost less to use.

Electric Rates Cut again and again and AGAIN!

Electric rates have dropped steadily and consistently in the P. G. and E. system.

In 1928 . . . rates were reduced by $2,418,900 yearly.

Again in 1930 . . . rates dropped by $3,020,000 yearly.

Again in 1935 . . . an inducement rate is saving customers $1,600,000 in one year.

NOW AGAIN in 1935-36 reduced rates save $3,924,000 yearly. In only eight years accumulated rate reductions have amounted to $54,621,000.

Electricity IS cheaper in California, with P. G. & E. electric rates among the lowest in the country

LOOKING at WASHINGTON

By Hugo Sims, Dispatch-Democrat's Special Washington Correspondent

The Federal Government operates on a fiscal year which begins on July 1 but it is necessary for officials to consider the budget many months ahead. So it is not surprising that President Roosevelt and his fiscal aides are already studying the budget for the fiscal year which begins next summer. Tentatively, it is understood that the expenditure of $6,500,000,000 is in mind. This would be a cut of about two billion dollars under the figure sent to Congress last January, but inasmuch as expenditures for this year are running below estimates, it will only be about $1,250,000,000 less than the expenditures of the current year.

While the figures given cannot be set down as conclusive, it is thought that the cost of regular departments and the expense of carrying the public debt will be about the same. For relief, the present suggestion is that three billion dollars be provided but again it is estimated that one-third of this sum will be on hand as a carry-over from the huge appropriation for the current year almost five billion dollars. Expenditures for regular departments will require around $2,200,000,000, and servicing the public debt will consume $1,300,000,000.

These figures will be knocked into a "cocked hat" if the Supreme Court throws out the processing taxes which provide the funds for the payment of crop benefits to farmers. Moreover, they include no allowance for payment of the bonus if, as seems likely today, Congress passes the veterans' measure over the President's veto next winter.

Considerable interest has been aroused by the open denunciation of what General Hugh S. Johnson calls the "amazing blunders and failures of the New Deal." The loquacious general speaks as a "sincere friend" of the President and maintains his conviction that the salvation of the country will be found only under the "do something" leadership of Franklin D. Roosevelt. However, Republicans and enemies of the Administration are delighted with the blunt speech of the former soldier, who frankly refers to the "obvious and fantastic flop" of the combined WPA-PWA program, the "expedient measures" for the temporary and artificial propping up of farm prices, the failure to solve the unemployment problem, the inability of the government to face continued deficits and the threat of "printing press" money.

The President's campaign strategy is beginning to appear. It includes championship of a permanent AAA and a claim for credit for national recovery. In his first speech upon returning to the United States after a three weeks cruise aboard the Houston, the President insisted, "We are on our way back; not just by pure chance, not by some turn of the wheel in a cycle; we are coming back solidly because we planned it that way and don't let anybody tell you differently."

This rather clearly sets forth the President's attitude to what has been accomplished by the nation in its battle with the depression. Shortly after returning to Washington and just before the farmers of the country voted overwhelmingly for the new Corn-Hog program, Mr. Roosevelt, in a surprise statement, took occasion to stand squarely behind the AAA as the basis for a permanent agricultural program.

Of course, the Administration has its troubles, including the annual Treasury deficits, the question of constitutionality that assails some of its measures, the troubles of the farmers and the persistent problem of unemployment. At the same time, it is only fair to point out that the situation this fall is much better than it was in the summer of 1934 when the Chief Executive landed at Portland, Oregon, after a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, to face complications of the drought, the NRA squabbles and the menace of threatened labor strikes.

Undoubtedly the country as a whole is in much better condition than it was in 1933 when President Roosevelt assumed office. There are abundant statistical figures to demonstrate this with indisputable evidence. Whether this progress has resulted because of or in spite of what the Administration has done, the political effect is that, usually, blame or credit will go to the party in power.

Having pledged themselves publicly to reemploy 3,500,000 persons by the end of November, the President and his administrators face the task of shifting nearly two million men from relief rolls to the payrolls through work relief, public works or housing projects in less than five weeks. Administrator Hopkins is enthusiastic over the probable success of the effort and predicts that Federal direct relief will positively end on December 1. His optimism arises partly from the fact that Comptroller General McCarl recently released a billion dollars for ninety thousand projects after the program had been tied up for many weeks by a jam in his office. Encouraging also was the report from the Labor Department that industrial employment is running far ahead of last year, with 350,000 additional workers returning to private employment, according to reporting industries during the month of September.

The work relief program, in the opinion of some observers, has weaknesses that hamper its operation, including, as it does, not only the object of getting people on "useful" jobs but an attempt to attain certain social objectives. For example, it includes agricultural reform, rural electrification, power development, housing, and a clash between the advocates of heavy construction as against light work.

Plans have been announced and apparently forgotten. Except in the case of the CCC, some organizations have been unable to get into high gear so that the WPA, with its light construction program, has had to bear the burden of supplying the jobs. However, the expectation is that other programs will reach their peaks later on and gradually take the place of some WPA undertakings. PWA, on its present schedule, will be going by December 15, the low-cost housing in January, the Army engineers program in the spring and the resettlement program and rural electrification at a later date. It will be necessary as these programs develop to taper off so that they will fit together into a sensible and reasonable pattern.

Already it is taken for granted that the presidential campaign of next year is going to rank with the most intense in the nation's history. Opponents of the New Deal will loosen a campaign fund of huge proportions although only a part of it will find its way into the coffers of the Republican party itself. That the President has lost ground with business is admitted and there is an increasing tendency on the part of capitalists and industrialists to fight reform measures and attempt to retain all they can of the status quo before 1933. The Administration is generally regarded as having the support of a large proportion of the farmers of the nation and the excellent prospect of an unexampled backing on the part of Labor, although industrial workers may be affected adversely by advancing living costs.

While the huge spending program of the Administration is generally regarded as a strong asset and referred to by some as a "campaign fund," it does not necessarily follow that all recipients of government bounty are enthusiastically behind what is being undertaken. Many of those on relief rolls or work relief projects, and some farmers who have received benefit payments, are dissatisfied with some details. Moreover, the conviction is gradually permeating the country that there is a danger in continuing deficits, that huge appropriations may be burdensome turns, those who have will begin to in the future and, as prosperity reworry about the payments that must be made for New Deal undertakings.

Many Improvements In 1936 Chevrolet

Last Saturday the new 1936 Chevrolet cars and trucks were exhibited for the first time in Ukiah, and according to George Vevoda of the Vevoda Motor Sales, a record crowd of over 300 people crowded the showrooms during the day.

Many improvements are noticeable, among them the new perfected hydraulic brakes, steel turret tops on the Standard and Master lines, beautified front end appearance and body lines, interior fittings, and a new upholstery of velvet mohair known as "breathing back."

The new and heavier knee action, with no-shock steering gear, is one of the many 1936 features. Gas and oil mileage is improved, tires are oversized, and bodies are longer and wider, particularly on the Standard lines which are three inches longer and three inches wider. V-type windshields are on both models this year.

Body styles are presented in sedans, sport sedans, coaches, town sedans, sport coupes, and business coupes in both Standard and Master models.

Chevrolet is geared up to its largest output this year and already the demand for local distribution is exceeding the supply. Mr. Vevoda, however, promises to have a complete line at all times and has a large staff of men ready to take care of his many friends and patrons.

SON TO PALLADINIS

Mr. and Mrs. Paige Payne of Santa Rosa are expected to be in Ukiah to pass the Armistice day vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Steiert.

Afternoon Club Has World Peace Theme At Regular Meeting

"World Peace" was the subject of an interesting and impressive program presented at the regular meeting of the Saturday Afternoon Club, held at the club house, Saturday, with Mrs. Olive E. Busch presiding. Other officers present were Mrs. C. A. Bernhard, first vice-president; Mrs. E. A. Eversole, secretary; Mrs. E. L. Chelli, corresponding secretary; and Miss Elizabeth Squires, treasurer.

Mrs. B. W. Wessel, program chairman, assisted by William Bromley, had arranged on the stage a very realistic representation of the tomb of the unknown soldier, as a setting for the peace pageant. Appropriate and appealing music was provided by Mrs. L. A. Elmore. The program readers were Mrs. B. W. Wessel, Mrs. C. A. Bernhard and Mrs. Olive E. Busch. Unknown soldiers of the greatest wars in history from that of the Greeks and Persians up to the recent World war, were represented by six young men in uniform —Gilman Cox, Ed Carmichael, Norman Buhn, Edward Sanford, Douglas Ashton and Jack Penland. Miss Betty Wessel, a tall and queenly young girl, was a beautiful picture as the spirit of peace that must in time come to rule over all of the earth. Richard Hurley represented justice, to be meted to all when universal and permanent peace sheds its benign influence over the world. Mrs. W. K. Davis, jr., chairman of the music section of the club, sang a beautiful solo entitled "Peace," to a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Elmore. The central theme of the addresses of Mrs. W. D. James, state president, on the occasion of her recent visit to this county, was "World Peace," and she recommended that such programs as Mrs. Wessel presented Saturday be given throughout California during this year.

During the business session, Mrs. Wessel reported that the proceeds of the dinner dance were $65. Mrs. E. W. Dutton, chairman of the Membership committee, presented the names of three applicants for membership in the club. Mrs. F. R. Leonard was elected to membership in the club.

Mrs. W. D. L. Held, district parliamentarian, gave an interesting description of the business and social features of the district board meeting which she attended in San Francisco on Monday. She highly praised our district president, Mrs. W. H. Higgins, for the efficient manner in which she conducted the meeting and for energy and enthusiasm with which she undertakes the important work of her position.

Mrs. C. A. Bernhard of the Finance committe reminded members of such coming events as the bridge tournament, the rummage sale, the November card party and the vaudeville show.

Mrs. R. A. Cushman, chairman of the Literary section, gave an interesting review of a new California book, "Laughter Out of the Ground," by Robin Lampson. She quotes the author and publisher in calling the work a novel in cadence. She said this story is not necessarily to be thought of as a long poem, but as a novel to be read with emphasized cadence, preferably aloud. A critic says that early California has seldom been translated into fiction so admirably and with such directness of effect. This intensely interesting story reads with speed and clarity and interprets with poetic beauty the spirit of the Argonauts in authentic gold rush adventures rich in drama and tempestuous with emotion. Mrs. Cushman exhibited an attractive copy of the book which will be found on the shelves of the Ukiah library this week. Mrs. C. A. Bernhard, another member of the literary section, reviewed the prize verse, "A Tree and Me," by Mrs. Ione Brown Tollinger, a gifted young San Francisco writer. This poem, of four brief stanzas, won the California Federation of Women's Club poetry contest for 1935. Her manuscript was selected out of 14,000. The opening lines run thus: "I love a tree. But I'm glad a tree's a tree and not me. I'd like the sway of boughs, and reach toward the sky, but if I had to be held earth-fast I'd die."

Mrs. E. C. Purdy reported for the music section on the premier of the thirteenth annual San Francisco opera season, describing the resplendent costumes and scintillating jewels in evidence on this notable occasion and outlining the story of "Das Rhiengold," by Richard Wagner, which was presented at the Memorial opera house on the evening before the club meeting.

Mrs. W. D. L. Held, club and district parliamentarian, gave an instructive talk on parliamentary law. These talks alone are worth the effort required to attend club.

Refreshments were served at charmingy decorated tables by the hostess committee, Mrs. Charlotte Collins, Mrs. Guy Redwine, Mrs. Jessie Brunner, Mrs. Harold Holliday and Mrs. P. H. Hopper.

Mrs. Mewhinney Is Hallowe'en Hostess

Mrs. Alice E. Mewhinney entertained a dozen friends at a delightful Hallowe'en dinner party, Thursday evening, October 31. Her charming home of English architecture, with its four spacious living rooms on the first floor opening into each other, lends itself favorably to this form of social function. The dining room and table were elaborately decorated in the holiday motif. Hallowe'en which precedes All Saints' day, November 1, is seen to contain vestiges of the ancient Druidic rites, and remnants of the Roman festival of Pomona, modified by a medieval Christian influence. This like most important church festivals is a survival of the early forms of sun worship. The various origins of the customs that have come down through the ages to modern days were all traceable in the decorations. The animal sacred to the Druids was the cat, and great black cats of very realistic appearance crouched in every corner of the room and looked down from the walls. Great bowls and baskets of fine fruit and nuts made Pomona, the goddess of the orchard and garden, seem very much in evidence. An attractive arrangement of great golden chrysanthemums and vivid green asparagus ferns, which formed the centerpiece for the dinner table, was flanked by gleaming crystal candelabra supporting groups of tall jet black tapers. The place cards were formed by weird representations of ghosts, goblins, and witches. The fine china and shining glass and silver made a beautiful background for the gold and black color scheme. Following the dinner a game of cards was enjoyed and the new suite of rooms which Mrs. Mewhinney has recently had fitted up in her home was inspected and admired.

Those who participated in the pleasure of the party were Mayor and Mrs. J. R. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Spurr and little daughter Eloise Gladys, W. D. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Taft, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bernhard, Mrs. Olive E. Busch, and the hostess, Mrs. Alice E. Mewhinney.

Legion's Armistice Ball Tomorrow Nite

Lewis White Post No. 76, American Legion, will hold their Armistice ball in the auditorium of the grammar school, Saturday night, with Kellog's 9-pice dance orchestra to furnish the music. The Armistice day spirit will pervade the decorations, and everything is being arranged for an evening of delightful pastime for those who attend.

The admission price is $1, with extra ladies admitted for 50c.

Leslie Crawford was in the Benbow district last weekend to make the purchase of some dairy cattle. Mrs. Crawford accompanied him.

Romer Vista Ranch Hallowe'en Hosts To Endeavor Class

The adult class of Christian Endeavor of the Christian church, of which Mrs. Ada Romer is president, enjoyed an interesting Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. Ida Romer at the Romer Vista ranch, Thursday evening. The class, consisting of a score of young people, met first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Field on Mill and Oak streets. Here pale ghosts and goblins led the shivering guests through an awesome chamber of horrors where weird ghost stories were told and a clever witch, in the person of Mrs. Elsie Thornton, told many remarkable fortunes.

At 9:00 o'clock the company drove south to the Romer Vista ranch, where the party was continued. A pantomime, "The Fete of Famous Ghosts," formed an interesting feature. Among the noted personages called back to earth were Adam and Eve, Queen Elizabeth and Sir Walter Raleigh, Napoleon, George Washington, Betsy Ross and Benjamin Franklin. Games in keeping with the holiday season were played under the direction of Mrs. Ada Romer.

A solo, entitled "Softly Now the Light of Day," was sung by Mrs. Beatrice Sweet to piano accompaniment by Mrs. Ada Romer.

During a brief business session, the year's work was outlined by the following newly elected officers: President, Mrs. Ada Romer; vice-president and social chairman, Mrs. Myrtle Field; secretary-treasurer, Miss Edna Travers; hospital chairman, Mrs. Pearl Blankenship; and prayer meeting chairman, Mrs. Elsie Banks.

The rooms and supper tables were artistically decorated with Hallowe'en emblems, including ghosts, cats, witches, cornstalks, pumpkins, and autumn leaves. A delicious supper was served by the hostess committee, Mrs. Ada Romer, Mrs. Myrtle Field and Mrs. Bessie Ginochio.

Those in attendance were Miss Bernice Christy, Miss Edna Travers, Miss Ada Hartley, Mrs. Eva Bynum, Mrs. S. S. Blankenship, Mrs. Elsie Thornton, Mrs. Beatrice Sweet, Mrs. Ida Romer, Mrs. Ada Romer, Mrs. Guy Field, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Romer, Edward Crane, Howard McCandless, Dan Denham, and Fred Mitchell.

Mrs. Emily Miller Hostess to Kosmos

At the regular meeting of the Kosmos club held at the club rooms on west Henry street on the fourth Thursday in October, with Mrs. Emily Miller presiding, the club voted to sponsor a performance of the Art Players of San Diego to be presented in Ukiah on November 18. It is expected that the project will be liberally supported by the local residents, as funds collected by this club have been used for such worthy purposes in the community.

Mrs. J. Q. White, chairman of the garden section, gave an interesting talk on tulip culture. She offered as a prize a beautiful blooming tuberous-rooted begonia, which was awarded to Mrs. Anna David. Mrs. White has instituted a plant exchange in which every effort is made to supply plants and shrubs which are requested by members.

Mrs. Maud Elledge and Mrs. Kathryn Parker were hostesses. The rooms were attractively decorated with brilliant autumn flowers and foliage. A contest, which involved an attempt to identify leaves from about two score native trees, proved both interesting and instructive. Mrs. J. Q. White, who is quite an authority on nature study, was an easy winner.

Refreshments were served at tables decorated in the Hallowe'en motif. An amusing entertainment feature was the fortunes concealed in the Hallowe'en napkins. The high hopes built up in the first half of the quatrain were shattered in the second part.

Mrs. Edith V. A. Murphey of Covelo, a member of the Kosmos Club will be the speaker at a meeting whenever she can arrange to be present. It will probably be an open meeting, that other interested persons may be able to hear the state chairman discuss the subject of Indian Welfare, on which she is probably the best authority in California.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. White distributed a quantity of bulbs and plants for an herb garden.

Among the many beautiful and useful gifts bestowed upon the bride-to-be was a wool blanket, made by members of her sewing club.

Those present were Mrs. Evelyn Shupe and the Misses Sidney Sanford, Helen Lamb, Barbara Foutch, Thelma Hull, Ethel Anker, Olive Hull, Violet Hull, Edna May Miller, the guest of honor, and Margaret Anker, the hostess.

AndersonValley Club Met With President

The regular monthly meeting of the Anderson Valley club was held at the attractive suburban home of the president, Mrs. Edna Holliday, Tuesday evening, with a score of members in ttendance. Mrs. Holliday was assisted in entertaining the club members by Mrs. Beatrice Sweet and Mrs. Prudence Thompson. One of the liveliest programs ever presented was enjoyed at this meeting. A group of vocal solos, suitable to autumn days and Hallowe'en, was rendered by Miss Chrystine Burke to piano accompaniment by Miss Wanda Burke. Both performers appeared in charming costumes of cunning little girls of days gone by. The gay hair ribbons, sashes, and lovely little slippers proved very becoming to the wearers.

Mrs. Emily Miller, organizer and past president of the club, gave a group of readings by which the club members were highly entertained. The first was a purported telegram from Wall street dealing with modern day economic problems. The second was a travelog, vividly depicting the folkways in the Isle of Man, which lies in an isolated position off the coast of England. The readings were concluded with an amusing selection entitled, "The Widow McCloud's Mare."

The rooms were artistically decorated with bright colored autumn foliage and the great fire that blazed on the hearth completed a cheerful scene of California country life at its delightful best.

Following the conclusion of the program supper was served by the hostesses.

The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Minnie Lambert, where a Christmas tree and gifts will be featured as is the club's annual custom.

Thompson Delights Rotarians, Guests

Seventy-five Rotarians and guests will remember with delight the entertainment afforded at last Tuesday's luncheon when Don Thompson, Associated Oil's broadcasting star, brought them the pictures of the California-St. Mary's and Washington-Stanford football games and told them the history of football broadcasing, its origin and some of the incidentals which go into the enormous total expense of the Associated's contribution to the air audience.

Associated Oil, Thompson said, spends $175,000 a year on broadcasts; $100,000 are paid to the radio concerns, and $75,000 go to the colleges. Incidentally, Mr. Thompson picked Washington to beat California next Saturday.

Valley Apples Given Federation Leader

Mrs. R. E. Brown, representing the Anderson Valley Unity Club, sent a plate of the finest exhibition apples from the recent Anderson Valley Apple Show to be placed in the room at the Palace Hotel which was occupied by Mrs. W. D. James of Hanford, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, on the occasion of her visit here a fortnight ago. Anderson Valley and the Unity Club certainly never before received so much favorable and worth-while advertising from an equal investment. Wherever she went, Mrs. James spoke of those great, gorgeous apples, as she was pleased to term them. She said she rolled them up in tissue paper and sent them to her sons in Hanford and thereby had the double pleasure of receiving them as a gift and of giving them to persons dear to her.

Representatives of the Ukiah clubs, who were raised in Anderson valley, and accompanied the state president on her trips about the two counties, had as much satisfaction in hearing the fine apples praised as would the present residents of the valley. The apple show executives should make Mrs. Millie Brown chairman of the advertising committee.

Splendid work is being done at Hopland to prevent the further encroachment of the river upon the lands in that valley in the winter time. On the Foster ranch a half a mile of filling is being done along the river bank.

The Ukiah Herald, the new paper, will make its appearance next week.

The hop market still continues dull. Prices are 5 and 5½ cents for good hops.

WHY

Homing Pigeons Fly Home in Ordinary Flights

Dozens of guesses have been made as to why carrier pigeons, those remarkable birds to whose wings and to whose "homing sense" we trust messages in peace and in war, so seldom lose their way back to their cotes, notes a writer in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Some persons have suggested that these pigeons are sensitive to magnetic forces around and in the earth, and that perhaps it is these forces which indicate the homeward direction. But this has been disproved when pigeons flew through strong magnetic currents without being affected by them.

An equally fantastic suggestion is that these birds have, somehow, a sensitive physical mechanism which winds up as they are taken away from their homes. But this is obviously incredible, for the birds may be twisted around many times in baskets before they are released and they do not reverse the action before starting for their cotes.

The most reasonable explanation is that the birds have excellent eyesight and great strength. The fact that they return more surely in daylight than they do at night indicates that their eyesight has some relation to their home-finding genius. It is quite possible that the birds learn to recognize landmarks, for they see much more sharply than human beings, who have only a dull, limited vision by comparison, can quite realize. At any rate, the fact is that homing pigeons even though they may be comparatively near their homes, generally wait until morning before their return.

Why We Eat Is Simplest of Questions to Answer

Of course everybody knows that the reason we eat is that the body requires food in order to exist, observes a writer in Answers Magazine. The three things the body requires from food are building material, energy and regulating substances. Thus everyone should strive to eat those foods which best supply these three things.

The legumes, eggs, meat and cheese are the foods used by the body for building up tissues. Carbohydrates and fat furnish the necessary energy. Carbohydrates are found chiefly in cereals, starchy vegetables, sugar, candies and sweet desserts. The best known fats are butter, cream and salad oil.

Our principal regulating substances are water, minerals and vitamins. The minerals and vitamins are found in milk, egg yolk, fresh fruits, vegetables and cereals. Children need more building material than adults.

Why Taxi Lights Are High

Tail lights on cabs are placed unusually high for two good reasons. In the first place, their high position places them more nearly on a direct line with the eyes of the driver of the car behind in heavy traffic with vehicles close together in which taxicabs usually ply. In addition, experience has taught cab companies that a tail light in the conventional location is in a vulnerable place, subject to those knocks and damages frequent to cars which are operated day and night, in good weather and bad and under all sorts of traffic conditions. The high tail light on the taxicabs removes the light from the danger of damage by drivers behind who have not stopped soon enough to avoid collisions.

Why Less Cotton Is Used

One reason that less cotton is used is the invention of artificial fabrics—that is manufactured fibers from which cloth may be woven, instead of cotton, flax or silk. Another reason is the decrease in the amount of cloth required for women's clothes. They wear fewer and much smaller undergarments than their mothers did, and as for cotton stockings—have a look. Probably 30,000,000 women and girls now wear silk stockings. Allowing for five a year on an average, it would take a lot of cotton to fill orders for 150,000,000 pairs of stockings. The production of rayon in the United States alone, last year, was about 110,000,000 pounds.

Why Metal Furniture Feels Cold

Metal furniture and wooden furniture attain the temperature of the room. Metal furniture feels colder to the touch because metal is a good conductor of heat, whereas wood is a poor conductor. When you touch an object with your finger you supply some of the heat of your body to the object through your finger. If the object is a good conductor the heat passes through it quickly and you get an impression of cold in your finger. On the other hand, if the object is a poor conductor of heat, it feels warm for the same reason.

Why It Is "Nansen" Passport

After the Soviet revolution in 1917 White Russians were unable to obtain passports, since the czarist government no longer existed. To solve this problem, several nations have issued, through the auspices of the League of Nations, an international passport for the benefit of persons without home governments. These are called Nansen passports in memory of the great Norwegian statesman and philanthropist, Fridtjof Nansen.

Why Hunters Wear Red Coats

Red is the color of the British royal livery. It is said that this color was adopted by huntsmen because fox hunting was declared a royal sport by Henry II.

Called to Sacramento

Police officers Jake Thom and J. C. Duffield were subpoenaed to appear before the Federal Grand jury in Sacramento last Monday to give testimony in the case of Mrs. D. Teel, who is charged with selling liquor to Indians. Stephen Knight, Ukiah Indian police, and Louis Asbill, a Round valley Indian to whom the liquor was sold, were the other witnesses. No information has been received here yet whether an indictment has been returned or not. The accused is out on bonds.

May Lose Eye

Last week August Nella met with a very painful and serious accident while employed at his duties in the roundhouse. In some unknown manner he got several small pieces of iron in and around his left eye. He was taken to the Howard Memorial hospital and they sent him to the Southern Pacific hospital in San Francisco where he is now receiving treatment. An X-ray showed several pieces of foreign matter in and around the eyeball, one of which is pressing on a nerve. It is the latter which is causing so much pain and as soon as the swelling goes down the splinters will be removed. His wife spent several days with him last week and expects to return to the city again this week. The doctors say that it will probably be several weeks before Nella can return home.

ROUND VALLEY

COVELO, Nov. 3.—Senator George M. Biggar and Supervisor Duane Bittenbender were busy all the past week interviewing land owners in regard to right-of-way through their land for the Longvale-Dos Rios highway. Cooperation among the resident owners has been unanimous. There are nonresident owners to be seen, some of them living in the bay cities, but no opposition is expected from these, as the road will enhance the value of all lands along the route and most of the right-of-way was pledged years ago when there were prospects of the road being completed.

Mrs. Frances Gadwood and daughter Phyllis of Red Bluff and Mrs. Lois Goodrich of Susanville have been here during the past week visiting their relatives. Mrs. Todd Hurt, Mrs. Parthenia Bates, Mrs. Malissa Gravier and Mrs. Ida Hollingsworth are the visiting ladies' aunts.

LeRoy Dunlap returned the first of the week from his vacation, which was spent in San Francisco and other cities on the bay and with relatives at Geyserville.

J. P. Thomas of Garberville was here the past week in the interest of the Covelo telephone exchange and took his daughter home with him for the weekend. She is attending the local high school.

Lawrence Hurt went to San Francisco a week ago to see the Sunday football game and to call on his mother, Mrs. Lulu Hurt, who is recovering from an illness in a hospital in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey returned to their San Francisco home the first of last week. They have been guests of the T. J. Lowery family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson have named their new son Albert Emery.

H. P. Haskins had business in the county seat the first of last week.

The apple-drier belonging to George Bennett of River Rest in Anderson valley was entirely destroyed by fire last week, with 60 trays of apples, two tons of green apples, 30 cords of wood, a wood saw, ranch machinery and all the drier equipment except the peeler.

WHY

Proper Walking Will Prevent Those Stinging Corns.

A new conception of the cause of the corn affliction is described by an orthopaedic surgeon at St. John's hospital, in London, writes a correspondent in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The view that corns are the result of wearing ill-fitting shoes is apparently largely incorrect. Shoes that fit perfectly, it is stated, may cause this trouble.

The root fault, it is explained, lies in the faulty use of the muscles below the knee. There are more than 30 muscles in each leg from the knee downward, the harmonious action of which is essential for comfortable walking.

When these structures are used incorrectly, an unusual "pull" results on a section of the foot, and this forces the local area up against the interior of the shoe. To avoid corns one must walk properly.

The essential treatment is concerned, therefore, with re-educational exercises of simple type which, in most cases, will result in a permanent cure.

Why Bodies Are Buried With Heads to the West

According to medieval legend, Christ was interred in the sepulcher with his head to the west, and in all early Christian cemeteries in northern Europe the graves were carefully orientated, the feet being placed to the east. It is believed by many that Matthew 24: 27—"For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be"—means that when Christ comes he will appear in the east. Bodies are therefore buried with the feet to the east so that when the dead arise on the morning of resurrection they can hurry in the direction of the Lord.

Orientation of the dead, however, is older than Christianity. The pagan Franks placed their dead with heads to the east, and in a cemetery at Charvaise dating back to the earliest Iron age all but three of seventy graves were so orientated.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why People Came in Mayflower

The passengers who came over on the Mayflower were of sturdy, middle-class origin. John Alden, for example, was a cooper. He was employed on repair work which had to be done on the Mayflower and thus became interested in the project. Governor Bradford was, as a young man, a silk dyer. He inherited a considerable estate and entered into commerce. While it is true that the passengers on the Mayflower left England seeking civil and religious liberty, it was an entirely different motive which finally prompted their leaving the Netherlands. Conditions under which their young people were living were not conducive to great righteousness and piety. This troubled the elder members of the little company of exiles and they set out for the New world in the hope of protecting the younger generation.

Why Flag Pole Has Decoration

The placing of balls, eagles and occasionally other objects atop flag poles is believed to have resulted from the desire of the average person to see a finished job rather than one left incompete. A flag pole without an object at its top to finish it off would be somewhat like a wooden Indian without his headdress. Something we had become used to would be missing, even though we might not be able to determine at the moment what seemed strange about it.

Why Cotton Cloth Shrinks

The National Bureau of Standards says that cotton cloth is stretched considerably in processing and is set in this stretched condition when it is dried as the last step in finishing it. Thorough wetting releases the tensions in the cloth and it shrinks. The amount of shrinkage will depend upon the thoroughness of the wetting and the amount the cloth is stretched.

Why Clouds Are Colored

Iridescent clouds are produced in the same way as the colors in the rings around the sun or moon—that is, by the process called diffraction, a modification of, or effect on, light as it passes adjacent to any object. In a cloud the minute water droplets account for the coloring to a great extent.

Why Creeks Are So Named

The Creek Indians received their tribal name from the fact that numerous creeks run through their original lands in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. They were first known to the English as Muscogees, which is a corruption of the Algonquin word maskoki, signifying creeks.

Why There Are Painted Windows

The custom af painting imitation windows on barns was brought to the United States from Europe. It was started there in order to avoid window tax and at the same time to give an appearance of affluence.

Why People Are Called Lions

The lions of a place are sights worth seeing, or celebrities, and are so-called from the custom of taking strangers in London to see the lions at the Tower. The Tower menagerie was abolished in 1831.

Why It Is a "Demijohn"

The word is an adaptation of a French Dame Jeanne, or Dame Jean, an application of a personal name to an object which is not uncommon.

Humboldt Mammoth Camellia Will Stand In Golden Gate Park

A giant camellia, of such proportions that it had long outgrown the shrubbery stage, was seen to pass through Ukiah some time ago, going south. The specimen was at least 25 feet long and proportionate in circumference. A truck and a trailer were required to carry it.

From Bruce Markel, the Dispatch-Democrat learns that the tree was from the home of Supervisor Lem Yokum's family at Arcata and was planted by his mother 60 years ago. As camellias seldom grow more than 10 feet tall, the one at the Yokum place has long been famous and was by far the largest in Humboldt county.

When seen in Ukiah the tree was enroute to San Francisco where it was to be set out in Golden Gate park, given to the park by Mr. Yokum as a memorial to his mother.

NOTE:—In the above tabulation of the tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurence, commencing with the early morning tides in the left hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occuring on the following morning.

The column of heights gives the elevation of each tide above or below the level of the Coast Survey chart soundings. The numbers are always additive to the chart depth.

The data is practically the same for Point Arena Light, Navarro River Entrance, Little River Harbor, Mendocino Bay and Fort Bragg Landing. For Westport subtract 5 minutes from the time and for Shelter Cove add 0.8 ft. to high tide.

MENDOCINO COUNTY GRAND JURY CLOSES ITS TWO-DAY MEETING

can be honest differences of opinion and that honorable men and women frequently reach different conclusions. With these principles before us, we believe that we can act in harmony with all officials in the public interest if the officials will meet us with a corresponding disposition."

Division II. The Barton Indictment

The preceding Grand jury returned an indictment against J. A. Barton, road foreman of Supervisor Charles R. Perkins of the Fourth Supervisorial District. A demurrer to this indictment was sustained by Judge Benjamin C. Jones and the matter was referred to this grand jury by order of court.

We have taken cognizance of this matter, and wish to report as follows:

The fiscal affairs of the Fourth Supervisor district have been considered by the two preceding Grand Juries. Numerous complaints and accusations have been made to individual members of this body. We have actual knowledge that charges of a very serious nature have been made over a period of several years. We have no way of knowing whether any of the accusations can be sustained by competent evidence and purposely refrain from forming or expressing any opinion thereon.

However, the nature of the charges is so serious that a complete presentation of the matter to this body is required in the public interest and we express surprise and disappointment that a thorough investigation was not made years ago when the charges first became common property. Either they are true or false. If true, the county as a whole is entitled to have such action taken as the facts warrant, and if untrue, Supervisor Perkins and Mr. Barton are entitled to exoneration of any criminality.

The ferreting out of evidence of crime is a statutory duty expressly imposed upon certain officers having the equipment, personnel and funds to perform it. The detection of crime is placed by law in the hands of the sheriff and district attorney. The attorney-general of the state, when requested by the Grand jury, is empowered to employ special counsel and special investigators, whose duty shall be to investigate and present evidence of such investigation to the grand jury. From our investigation we conclude that the fiscal affairs of the Fourth Supervisor district, extending over several years past, have never been given the serious consideration of either the sheriff or district attorney of this county. We hesitate to employ the full powers of a Grand jury and call upon the attorney general to employ a special prosecutor and special investigators at heavy expense to the taxpayers. Unless and until we are convinced that such recourse must be had, such a step will not be taken.

We are agreeable to meeting at any time at the request of the district attorney.

Division III. Election Precincts

The heavy expense of elections was given serious consideration by the Executive Committee. It was found that a substantial saving could be made by the consolidation of many election precincts, the committee recommending that the number be reduced to sixty-five.

The report of the Executive committee was filed with the county clerk to be filed with the Supervisors not later than the first Monday in November. This committee report is attached hereto as Appendix B. It has been considered by the Grand jury as a whole, has been ratified and approved, and is submitted as part of our recommendation.

Division IV. Justice's Courts

No more money should be raised by taxation than is necessary to provide adequate governmental service to the county. As additional service is demanded, more taxes must be levied unless changing conditions make it possible to reduce expenditures for other purposes.

We believe that improved means of communication such as roads, highways and telephones have made the continued existence of ten Justce courts unnecessary. The following is a comparative analysis of the business and expense of the various justice courts during the fiscal year ending July 30, 1935:

	Total Cases	Total Cost	Av. per Case
Sanel	138	$ 821.66	$ 5.90
Ukiah	406	2438.84	6.00
Long Valley	89	807.81	9.00
Little Lake	131	1273.12	9.70
Ten Mile River	166	2357.34	14.30
Anderson	23	725.00	31.50
Round Valley	42	1327.00	31.50
Big River	39	1317.50	33.80
Cuffey's Cove	14	610.00	33.50
Arena	14	963.00	68.78

Total cases, 1062.
Total cost, $12,641.07.
Average cost per case, $11.90.

From our study of conditions we have reached the conclusion that six justice courts are wholly adequate. We submit the following as our recommendation relative to judicial townships and a proposed salary schedule:

Township and Salary Schedule

	Justices	Constables
First	$ 480.00	$ 360.00
Second	1200.00	720.00
Third (outside Round Valley)	480.00	360.00
Fourth	1000.00	720.00
Fifth	480.00	480.00
Round Valley	480.00	360.00
Total	$4120.00	$2880.00

Total present salaries Justices and Constables $11,160.00
Total proposed salaries Justices and Constables 7,000.00

Total annual saving salaries..$ 4,160.00
Min. incidentals saved ann'lly.. 140.00

Total saving to taxpayer....$ 4,300.00

It will be noted from the above that the annual saving to the taxpayer will approximate $4300.00. Quite naturally some communities will lodge objections, but an examination of the first table will disclose that in some instances justice courts are too expensive. The saving of $4300.00 is greatly desired under any circumstances.

As the changes in the boundaries of judicial townships should be made by the supervisors before the elections next year, we file this recommendation at this time and request that it be transmitted to the board of supervisors.

Conclusion

In as much as recommendations contained in the foregoing report affect the board of supervisors, district attorney and sheriff, we are filing four copies of the original, and request that the clerk of this court forthwith transmit certified copies hereof to the Board of Supervisors, the district attorney and sheriff of Mendocino county, and Hon. U. S. Webb, attorney-general of the state of Caiforina.

The Grand jury has voted to take an adjournment upon filing this report in court, to meet again at the call of the foreman.

To this report is subscribed the names of each member of the Grand jury in attestation of the fact that it represents in its entirety not only the opinions, conclusions and recommendations of the body as a whole, but also of each individual member.

Supervisor's Widow Must Pay Bail Bond Fee In His Release

Superior Judge W. D. L. Held, presiding over an extra session of Sonoma county court last week, heard the matter of Fred F. Partridge against Mrs. Victoria Lowell, widow of the late Supervisor Fred Lowell, in which Partridge sued to collect a $450 fee for bail bond provided by his company to secure the release of Lowell, following his indictment for grand theft.

In addition to paying the fee, Mrs. Lowell must also pay court costs in the action, under the court's order. The case recalled the sensational expose of payroll padding in Lowell's district in Sonoma valley and other misappropriations.

Lowell dropped from sight a few hours before the grand qury returned the indictment against him. He returned to Santa Rosa at 6 o'clock in the morning of January 1, 1934, when arrangements were made for his surrender to Sheriff Marcus Flohr and for release on bail.

Several days later Lowell shot and killed himself and Mrs. Lowell refused to pay the bail bond fee.

Mrs. Diecy Crow of Willits is moving to Ukiah this week to make her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Stickney were visitors to the Stickney family home at Caspar last weekend.

Hors-d'œuvre

ad captandum vulgus.

This is the time of the year for warning of danger from carbon monoxide gas—cold mornings and the disposition to start the motor before opening the garage doors. Don't take chances. Turn off the motor as soon as the car is inside the garage; the gas is deadly and its work is sudden and complete.

Wages of Sin. When the Lord wrote the commandments He did not intend that we should consider the "iniquity of the fathers" of greater consequence than the sins of the mothers. The affair down at Geyserville last week, when a 15-year-old daughter ran away with the 35-year-old man who had an affair with her mother and which had brought estrangement between the woman and her husband, establishes the fact that the mother's sins may have more far-reaching consequences to her children than the iniquities of the father—especially to the daughters of the family.

Had this particular woman walked circumspectly before her child, authorites of the country would not have been on the lookout for the man with a warrant for his arrest, the young girl would in all probability be safe at home with the woman who bore her, and from whom she had every God-given reason to expect proper guidance. But the mother forgot every obligation and in doing so placed her child directly in the path of danger, and with her own example for the girl to copy. The result is the child's life is ruined, no matter how you look at it; the mother's name is forever besmirched, and the man was facing a long term in prison.

Verily, the Word that came down from Mount Sinai thousands of years ago is the law unto the nations of the earth today.

M. D.'s and A. M.'s. There is a similarity in the procedure of doctors and auto mechanics. One may drive his car for a year or so, knowing of certain mechanical defects until necessity forces him to the repair shop. Let him explain to the mechanic that he wants a new fan belt, carburetor adjustment and a tightening on the shackle bolts, and does the mechanic listen? He does not. He runs a jack under the hind axle and proceeds to tear out the rear end.

One may go along for a year or so, knowing of certain physical defects, until necessity forces him into the consultation room of the physician. He may tell the doctor of loss of appetite, sleepless nights and spots before the eyes, and does the doc listen? The patient does not get far with his recitation before he realizes the man of medicine has planned an attack upon an entirely different sector than the apparent seat of the trouble.

Kingren's Choice In Bankruptcy Is Upheld By Court

Judge St. Sure of the United States District court affirmed the order of Judge Kingren of Ukiah in the Austin Resort and Land company bankruptcy, removing J. A. Ratchford as trustee and appointing E. T. Williams as of October 24, 1935.

It will be remembered that J. A. Ratchford was elected trustee by the creditors, and afterwards J. W. Kingren, referee, refused to confirm his election on the graound that he could not legally hold the office, and appointed E. T. Williams. J. A. Ratchford and three or four of the creditors took the matter to the United States District court for review, and after the matter was thoroughly briefed by the attorneys, H. G. Crawford, representing E. T. Williams as trustee, and J. A. Ratchford and others representing Mr. Ratchford, Judge St. Sure held that the action of J. W. Kingren as referee was correct and in accordance with law.

No Time Wasted

"If you don't get to bed this very minute, Mary," scolded her mother, "you'll never be able to get up in the morning in time for the picnic."

"Oh, yes, I will, mother," insisted Mary, who has always shown a constitutional aversion toward going to bed early. "Please let me stay up just a little longer. I sleep awful fast."—Country Gentleman.
